Non-Returnable Product Categories

The following product categories are excluded from Trendyol's 15-day return policy and are not eligible for return under any circumstance, regardless of whether the product is unused, unopened, or its packaging is intact. Category Group	Return Eligibility	Reason
----------------	--------------------	--------

Hygiene Products	Non-returnable	Products that fall within the hygiene category and are intended to come into direct contact with the human body are strictly non-returnable, in accordance with applicable health and safety standards. This restriction applies regardless of whether the product has been opened or used, and remains in place even if the original packaging is intact. Trendyol does not accept return requests for hygiene products due to the risk of contamination, health concerns, and the loss of resale integrity once the item has left controlled storage conditions.
Digital Products & Licensed Media	Non-returnable and non-cancellable	Digital products and licensed media are not eligible for return under any circumstances. Personal Care, Household Supplies & Consumables	Non-returnable	Personal care items, household supplies, and other consumables are not eligible for return, regardless of packaging condition or usage status. These products are excluded from Trendyol's return policy because they are inherently consumable, degrade after opening, or present hygiene risks once delivered. Grocery, Vitamins & Pet Food	Non-returnable	Food products, nutritional supplements, and pet consumables are strictly non-returnable for health, safety, and regulatory reasons. As these items are classified as perishable, sensitive to storage conditions, or consumable upon delivery, Trendyol does not accept return requests once they have been dispatched. This policy applies to all food and feed items, regardless of packaging or delivery condition, to ensure product safety, customer health, and compliance with applicable laws.
Cosmetics	Non-returnable	Cosmetic products are not eligible for return, regardless of whether the product has been opened or used. These items are excluded from Trendyol's return policy due to the risk of direct contact with the skin, hair, lips, or body, which raises hygiene, health, and product integrity concerns. Once delivered, cosmetic products cannot be resold or verified as unused without compromising safety standards. As such, return requests for cosmetics will not be accepted under any circumstances.
Furniture Sets and other very large parcel furniture referenced on the product description pages.
